A NOTE OF THANKS

Our family is deeply grateful for your kindness, your presence, and the many ways you have carried us through these days. Thank you for celebrating Eleanor with us.

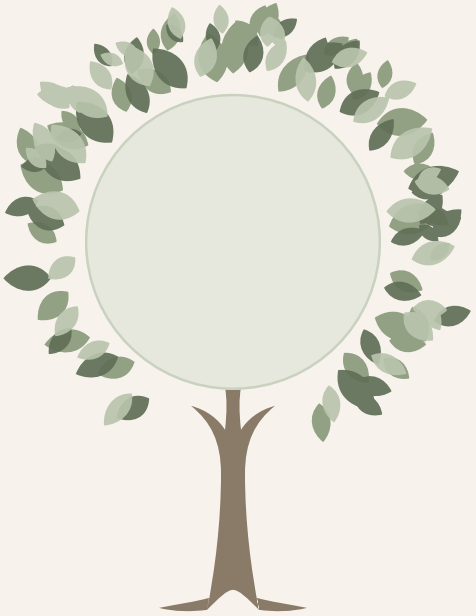

RECEPTION

Immediately following the service
The Garden Room at Willow Creek Hall
214 Maple Lane, Fairview

Like the leaves that turn and fall, you return to the quiet earth — and still, in every spring, we will find you.

IN LIEU OF FLOWERS, DONATIONS MAY BE MADE TO THE FAIRVIEW PUBLIC LIBRARY

CELEBRATING THE LIFE OF

Eleanor Grace Whitmore

1941 — 2026

ORDER OF SERVICE

Prelude
“Morning Has Broken” · Piano

Welcome
Daniel Brooks, celebrant

Opening Words
Anna Whitmore Reyes, daughter

Reading
A favorite poem, read by Thomas Whitmore

Musical Tribute
“Over the Rainbow” · Lisa Chen

Life Reflection
James Whitmore, son

Sharing of Memories
All are welcome to speak

Moment of Silence

Closing Words
Daniel Brooks, celebrant

Recessional
“What a Wonderful World”

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 11, 2026 · 11:00 AM
WILLOW CREEK HALL · FAIRVIEW

IN LOVING MEMORY

Eleanor Grace Whitmore

March 14, 1941 · October 2, 2026

Eleanor was born on a spring morning in 1941 and spent her childhood on her family’s farm outside Fairview, where she learned to love early sunrises and tomato vines. She taught second grade for thirty-four years and could still name nearly every student she ever had.

She married her sweetheart, Robert, in 1963, and together they raised three children in a house that was never quiet and always smelled of coffee. Eleanor tended a garden the whole street admired, never missed a grandchild’s recital, and believed that a handwritten letter could fix almost anything.

She is survived by her children Anna, James and Thomas, seven grandchildren, and countless friends who were made to feel like family the moment they arrived.